

Duke Recording Options

Category	What's It Called?	What Does It Do?	How Much?	How Do I Get It?	Benefits	Challenges
Audio	iPod with microphone	Records audio	DDI provides units for loan at no charge to students, faculty and staff	Visit the Link service desk at the Perkins library during regular hours	Portable, easy to use produces easy to distribute and edit audio files	Recording subject needs to be relatively close to the unit
Audio, Video	Flip video camera	Records audio and video	DDI provides units for loan at no charge to students, faculty and staff.	Visit the Link service desk at the Perkins library during regular hours	Small, portable, very easy to use, good quality video	Recording subject needs to be relatively close to the unit for good audio, limited time to record. No way to record your computer screen.
Audio, Video	Video camera	Records audio and video	DDI provides units for loan at no charge to students, faculty and staff.	Visit the Link service desk at the Perkins library during regular hours	Good quality video and audio, longer recording times, has optical zoom, can use a lavalier mic for better audio	Must be converted to be easily distributed, may require editing, more complex than other recording options. No way to record your computer screen.
Audio, Video, Screen	DukeCapture	Automatically records and publishes audio, video, computer screen and Powerpoint/Keynote Presentations	Specially configured Windows computers cost about $2000 and are installed in classrooms/ conference rooms by the local IT/ Media staff. Software is supplied at no charge by OIT	Schedule your class/event in a venue that already has a DukeCapture recorder integrated into the room or ask the venue's IT/Media staff to contact OIT ITS about installing a system.	Provides automated workflow from scheduled recording to web or mobile device publishing, can edit recordings	Requires installation into a classroom and technical support for scheduling
Audio, Video, Screen	DukeCapture Mobile	Records and publishes audio, video, Powerpoint/Keynote presentations and computer screen from any personal computer. Can "join" DukeCapture classroom recordings	OIT provides the software at no cost. Computer and peripherals (camera, mic, etc) provided by customer	Schools or department's IT staff can sign on to support the service within their organization	Provides ability to record and publish with same functionality of classroom system without limitation of teaching/presenting in a specific venue	No audio or video capabilities
Audio, Video, Screen	Quicktime X	Records audio and video or audio and screen	Free	Is automatically installed with Mac OSX 10.6	Very easy to use, can use with external webcam or camera, publish automatically to YouTube	Macintosh only
Screen	Jing	Records computer screen and audio	Free	Visit their website .	Offers recording and distribution options via screencast.com and YouTube. Easy to use	Both free and pro versions limited to 5 minute recordings. Free version brands videos with a Jing watermark. Direct publishing to YouTube only supported in pro version. Screencast.com has limitations on free storage (2GB and 2GB monthly bandwidth)
Screen	Camtasia	Records computer screen and audio	Approximately $300.00	Visit their website .	Offers recording and distribution options via Screencast.com and YouTube. Relatively easy to use. Contains built in editing tools.	Screencast.com has limitations on free storage (2GB and 2GB monthly bandwidth)